In today's competitive healthcare market, streamlining the flow of information and increasing productivity is critical. But you still need to maintain a high level of quality control over vital business documents.

How do you find content specific slides, images or documents without having to search through multiple files across the network? How do you facilitate information sharing between your corporate communications, marketing, research and sales groups without losing the integrity of your work?

Accent Librarian™ is specifically designed to solve these challenges. Librarian is an Advanced Document Management (ADM) solution providing your team fast access to their most critical business information from anywhere.

Librarian creates a secure online knowledgebase of your reports, PowerPoint slides and media files, combining a fast and powerful search engine with a flexible presentation and document assembly technology. Librarian dramatically increases access to your best information—enabling sales, marketing, research and communications teams to be more productive with greater accuracy.

"Our reps are very limited on face time with their customer physicians—they now have fast access to their presentation and sales collateral library to quickly tailor on-target messages for busy doctors. Marketing now has precise control over the accuracy and brand of the materials."
